

COMPOSE your LEGACY

Throughout our lives we have been exposed to all types of music, but there are none that compare to live symphonic music—whether it be classical, pops, or jazz. The Richmond Symphony has enriched our lives through concerts and educational programs. We are especially interested in assuring that the youth of the future experience live symphonic music performed by talented professionals. We want them to have the same joy from hearing and appreciating the music that we do. We are called to guarantee the future of this wonderful Richmond asset through annual and endowment gifts. Therefore, our estate plans include the Richmond Symphony.

Thank you for your support of the Richmond Symphony! We hope you will consider including the Richmond Symphony (annual fund) or the Richmond Symphony Foundation (endowment) in your estate plans through a bequest. You will be supporting the future of fine classical music in Richmond and central Virginia! Without giving up assets during your lifetime, you can make a gift to the Richmond Symphony through a bequest in your will for a specific amount, a percentage of your estate, or the remainder after other obligations are fulfilled. If you already have a will, a codicil can be an addendum to include the Symphony in your estate plans.

(Please consult with your financial planner or legal counsel as you proceed with your estate planning.)
